

95th Annual Meeting & Awards Presentation

June 8, 2018

Chesapeake Region Safety Council

2555 Lord Baltimore Dr., Suites N-R, Baltimore, MD 21208

11:00am-12:00pm: Guest Speaker First Sergeant Jon Hill, Training Coordinator with the Maryland State Police and one of MSP's lead Civilian Response to Active Shooter Events (CRASE) Instructors.

Over the past two decades, horrific mass shootings have been thrust into public consciousness. Mitigating the effects of these sudden incidents is the responsibility of those who serve in our communities' public safety organizations. Across the nation, the average response time for law enforcement to these events is 3 minutes. While this is the best in the world, a motivated, moderately equipped suspect can inflict a great deal of destruction in that short amount of time. Studies have shown that it is the initial actions taken by people immersed in an active shooter event that have the greatest impact on their survival. CRASE arms people with the information they need to know to protect themselves and others around them in those crucial first 3 minutes, should they be caught in a critical incident. This presentation is an overview of the body's disaster response system, how it affects decision-making during high-stress incidents, and how to employ the avoid-deny-defend principles to counter an active assailant. Since February of 2016, the Maryland State Police has delivered the CRASE program to over 10,000 citizens in person in both public and private sector organizations.
